3B7, ST BRANDON DXpedition – update by Seb F5UFX, team leader

Last January, we revealed our new project: a DXpedition to St Brandon archipelago – 3B7. Initially planned on October 2017, it is finally the period of March-April 2018 which was selected. It presents a maximum of favourable conditions. Since the announcement, we have worked on many subjects by following our usual roadmap. Although we're already familiar with this kind of preparation, it is far from being routine because each project is different. This new adventure does not make exception, and has its batch of characteristics. That's all these preparatory tasks achieved during months which will condition success once on the air. <https://dx-world.net/st-brandon-dxpedition-3b7/>

ZS9V, Robben Island AF-064 – update

Permission has not yet been granted by the island authorities for this operation. We have made no announcement of it going ahead and will not do so until all the required approvals are in place. Right now, there is no reason to believe that this operation will happen this year. 73 Paul van Spronsen, ZS1V

~~AF-064 Robben Isl~~ Look for ZS9V from August 9 until August 13. QSL via M0OXO.
